SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

OUR JUNIOR CLASS Historian made the following forecast concerning us: "Coming events cast their shadows before. If that be true, the present Junior Class is casting a shadow that bids fair to become an eclipse by 1942. That is, as Seniors we hope to eclipse all previous Central classes." Well, here we are now writing the history of that Class of 1942. We like the prophecy of eclipsing all previous classes. The eclipse as we see it is, of course, an eclipse of the sons, although it may be said that there has been more than a little mooning throughout the year. Perhaps more over Central lasses than Central classes.

Our astronomical staff for this eclipse of 1942 was headed by Senior President Broughton McCarthy. He had as his assistants Jack Pearce, vice-president; Tod Doran, secretary; and Henry Clausen, treasurer.

To put our planet in position for its eclipse, we started our year by sending nine hefties—Jack Berry, Ernest Burns, "Harp" Cote, Bill Egan, Charles Lavelle, Ray Lynch, "Dutch" Martin, Jack Pearce and "Chuck" Strong—to represent us on to the gridiron. Braving the perils of the sport and with an eye towards the admiring females in the bleachers, they gave their all. Our planet is still rotating. Comes winter and comes basketball season. The varsity squad showed the home fans how the game should be played and, on their extensive travels throughout the state they put up a decent showing. Their crowning victory was that over Butte High—the first in five years—for the City Championship. Billy Martin, "Broughton" McCarthy, Charles Strong and Don Howe formed the Senior representation on the squad. Perhaps the brightest light our planet gave off was the reflection of the footlights used in "Room Service". This proved to be the nearest thing to a "Senior" Play that Central ever staged—as ten members—Ernest Burns, Jack Cote, Gerald Coleman, Charles Gallagher, Peter Kelly, "Tuck" McGree, Frank Rohan, Steve Sabol, Jere Smyth and James Taylor—of the cast of fourteen were Seniors. Emmett Lowney and George Shea added their artistic talents to those of the cast in making the special props what they were. The fame of our planet was made known to all through the Senior controlled press with Charles Gallagher as Editor and Jere Smyth, Associate Editor. Sars O'Sullivan, Frank Conklin, Emmett Lowney, John Canty, Bill Lohman, Al Stonich, and Bill Drew all contributed their time and talent towards making the Maroon what it was. We don't want to blow our own horn too much, especially since we have such capable blowers in the band and orchestra. Needless to say, our musical organizations will sorely miss these numerous Senior members.

Our existence as Seniors has not been only one round of extra-curricular activities. (Oh, but that it was!) During our spare time we managed to concoct a few essays that, one place or another, won prizes. Sarsfield O'Sullivan won first prize in the State Irish History Essay Contest. Jim McCoy won first place in the City-wide Anti-Tuberculosis Essay Contest. Emmett Lowney's apologetics paper was sufficiently good to send him to the Diocesan contest at Anaconda, where he enthralled his listeners. For the fourth consecutive year Boys' Central won the Knights of Columbus Essay Contest. Bill Lohman was the author of the winning paper. Just as we go to press comes the news that another Senior, Tom Kenneally, won third place in the Bankers' Essay Contest. Upon such a record we rest our case.

Right about now our magnetic personalities are exercising a slowing effect on our planet. As it comes to a stop, we will ask the Mount Wilson observatory to tell us whether or not we have created an unprecedented eclipse. Pending their answer, we will take the benefit of the doubt and say that we, the Class of 1942, have outdone all previous classes. And we maintain that our record will stand unchallenged until our sons graduate at some future date.

CLASS PROPHECY

One day as I wandered over a dreary mountain trail
I chanced upon two hermits, white-haired, old and frail.
They were chatting to each other of—ages long gone by
And as they spoke of '42 each heaved a painful sigh.

It was Lohman and O'Sullivan who chatted thus and so;
It was two "boys" of '42 promenading to and fro,
On whose tete a tete I by luck had stumbled;
So I drew a little nearer, and here is what they mumbled:

Paul Lowney, the political boss,
Is really sitting pretty,
For with Canty as his right hand man
He runs an open city.

Stoinich is city doctor
With Burns there at his side;
They fumigate us once a year
With a thing called "chloramide".

Kelly, Kelly, and Murphy,
A law firm of much note,
Have found their biggest case,
In Burns' right to be a poet.

Martin, the great French author,
Has certainly found fame;
And Clausen, Gessner and Hanley
As salesmen made a name.

Smyth's a Communist orator
Outside of Cote's bars,
Where Gallagher runs a telescope
Covered with phony stars.

Crnich is a contractor,
With Maher his engineer,
But the only thing they're doing
Is drinking Berry's beer.

LeSage has turned mechanic,
The best one in the town;
But as soon as one is fixed up
Michaud breaks it down.

They say the Warden Tuck McGree
Has made a great decision;
For he has let Guard Murphy out
Before he wrecked the prison.

Drew and Rohan are undertakers
And Egan drives their hearse,
Turk, the sheriff, gives 'em work
For which they're none the worse.

Tim Crowley leads a symphony,
And Coffey leads a band,
Pelletier is a violinist
And with Verbanac tours the land.

Chuck Darcy is a grocer
While Taylor's unemployed,
Ray's a "fence" in Brooklyn
Where they say he's quite the "boid".

Coleman's still in college,
A teacher he will be;
At least we hope he makes it
By nineteen ninety-three.

Rosellini runs a night club,
Where Conklin runs a table;
But where they get their biggest swag
Is from Senator Steve Sabol.

Kenneally runs a model farm
With Sullivan, Strong and Shea;
They irrigate from Silver Bow
But can't seem to make it pay.

Jack Pearce is now a plumber
With a shop upon the Hill;
And Pat O'Neill is at the Con,
Where he runs a diamond drill.

Yunker's a psychiatrist
But he runs his own hotel;
McCoy gives him competition
For he runs the new motel.

Dutch Martin coaches Central
Assisted by O'Brien;
And though their backs are pretty fair,
They have a rotten line.

Dillon and Joe Lynchehan
Now own the cemetery;
Their biggest job in recent weeks
Was interring Mayor Ferry.

McCarthy is the admiral
Of the U. S. two-way navy;
Lavelle is now his gunner-chief
And Lynch serves up the gravy.

Bernie O'Brien and Lester
Both own a clothing store;
And with all of Rudman's costumes
'Tis really quite a chore.

Gleason, McGee and Stetzner
Are at Boeing's testing planes
For engineer Tod Doran,
Who didn't waste his brains.

Cleary's on the radio,
Sponsored by Burchell;
And Lowney, Hawe and Foley
All run a wishing well.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

JUST AS "Father's clothes will soon fit son," the Seniors' shoes will soon have to fit us Juniors—or most of us. Those brogans may not have rubber heels, nevertheless the majority of us will be wearing them.

Anticipating the importance of the job that is ahead of us, we chose as directors of our activities six good men in Lazzeri, Pascoe, Murphy, O'Halloran, Lynch, and Leary who have been at work all year seeing to it that our record as Juniors would be a proud one. Since our chief occupation in life is that of the student, it is natural that we should be tops in that field. Paced by Pascoe, who has never seen less than an "A," Jim Sullivan, Emmett Sullivan, Ed Scully, Don McDougall, Jack Boyle, John Wulf, and Humphrey Courtney consistently made the Honor Roll.

In football the helmets proved large enough to fit our many representatives on that aggregation. Lazzeri, Sullivan, Edwards, Kane, Devine, Guay, Joyce, Murphy, Sullivan, and Smith were the boys who stayed with the squad to the end. On the basketball floor Sullivan, Doran, Guay, Edwards, Devine, and Wargin played with the Varsity Squad, while Lazzeri, Sullivan and Barry played with the Catholic State Champs—the "B" team.

Pascoe, Sullivan, Ozanne, Boyle, McCarthy, Schilling, and Courtney proved to be valuable members of the Maroon staff and have taken over the important positions on the staff for next year. Pascoe will act as editor-in-chief.

The annual production of the Dramatic Club gave Boyle, Dougherty, and Ozanne an opportunity to display their histrionic ability, while Jim Sullivan did a fine job as chief property man.

Now that the year is nearly over, we find that we have fitted into the Senior places better than they themselves did, and we think that next year we will take our place as one of the truly great classes of Central.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

SOPHOMORE YEAR was a big one for the members of the class of 1944 in scholastic, athletic, and other activities. Judged by results this year, the class gives bright promise.

In the scholastic field Harry Butori, Jack Duffy, and Hugh McMahon of the Scientific, and Pat and Jim O'Neill of the Commercial made the honor roll for each of the six periods, Butori turning in the best record.

On the football squad Eli Banovich and Charles Poole were regulars, while James O'Dell made the "A" squad in basketball. Eddie Boyle, Banovich, Poole and Fogarty were members of the "B" squad which took the State Catholic Championship. As this is written, several members of the class are out for track. In the minor sports field, Jack Duffy took the School Ping-Pong Championship from John O'Brien, a Senior.

Hugh McMahon, Russell White, Pat O'Neill, James Forsell, William Geagan, and Jack Duffy were regular members of the Maroon Staff, with McMahon and White winning important jobs on the newly-organized '42-'43 staff.

In the Dramatic Club annual production, "Room Service", McMahon for his second time played the female lead.

Pep Club, Band, Orchestra, and Pep Band took up the time of several members of the class. Butori, O'Donnell, McMahon, St. John, Geagan, Wales, Forsell, Cullerton, Sullivan, T. Driscoll, B. Driscoll, and Kane helped shout the teams to victory as members of the Pep Club. Pat O'Neill, Butori, Canty, Fitzharris, Tom Driscoll, Jerry Sullivan, Harrington, Crotty and McGowan played with the Band, while Butori and McGowan helped out in the Orchestra and Fitzharris and Canty were active members of the Pep Band.

The Hockey teams provided winter recreation for White, Fogarty, Sullivan, P. O'Neill, and Jim O'Neill. The Gym team had E. O'Brien, J. Scully, Hoem, O'Donnell, and Haran.

Dancers who performed at various affairs throughout the season and helped teach the freshmen were Semmens, O'Donnell, P. O'Neill, O'Rourke, Shea, Quinn, O'Brien, and Harrington.

FRESHMEN CLASS HISTORY

IT WAS INDEED a class of hilarity and wit that entered Boys' Central High on September 6, 1941. Speaking with a note of practicality there was more hilarity than wit and a little more genius than hilarity. So much genius was contained in the class that the almighty Seniors almost established a day of torture for us Freshmen. But, due to the omnipotence of the faculty, if we may say so, the green Freshmen were spared the horror of the Senior wrath.

Came the first exams and the Freshmen were ably represented on the honor roll, and every test has seen "The Peanut Butte Man", Pat Lee, on the straight A list.

As for athletics Freshmen produced one man for the varsity team, that is Joe Kelly who had no small part in checking Butte's blitz on the memorable night up at the Mines gym. Then too, on the B team were Dan Burchell, who was named to the All-tournament team at the State Catholic Tournament. Other members of the team from the Freshmen were Keough, Connors, Howe, and Dennehy.

Best of all, Freshmen gave no small numbers of Dorseys, Krupas, Piccolo Petes, and various other musical geniuses to the band. However at the present we cannot say what the opinion of the faculty is pertaining to our progress on the various instruments and as for the non-musical students, well, we prefer not to publish their statements in this article.

Freshmen were represented on the Maroon by two of its members: Pat Harstead and Tom Clinch.

All in all, we Freshmen hope we haven't made too good a record for the future Freshmen to uphold and we hope we'll make a better one as Sophomores. Of course, we don't think much of ourselves, but the truth is the truth.

ST. GABRIEL OF OUR LADY OF SORROWS

Patron of the School

O God, who didst teach blessed Gabriel diligently to ponder the sorrows of Thy most sweet Mother, and who hast exalted him to the glory of sanctity and the working of miracles; grant us, through his intercession and example, so to mourn with Thy Mother, that we may be saved through her maternal care. Amen.

(From the Collect of the Mass of St. Gabriel).

ACTIVITIES

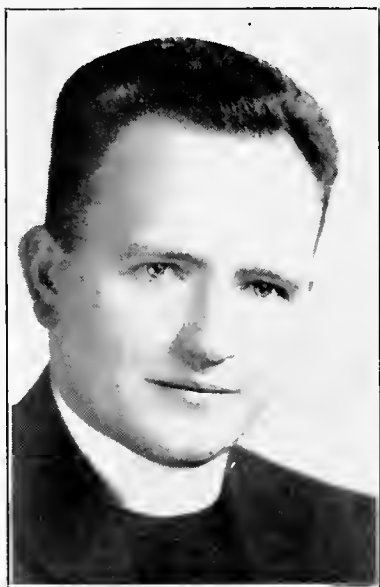

ANNUAL RETREAT

The Annual Retreat of three days was this year conducted by Rev. Martin Florian, Pastor of the Church of St. Anthony, Laurin, Montana, on the three days preceding the Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

REV. MARTIN FLORIAN

ST. GABRIEL'S DAY

REV. THOMAS GANNON

The Sermon on the Feast of St. Gabriel, Patron of the School, was delivered by Rev. Thomas Gannon of the Cathedral Parish, Helena. Father Gannon was a member of the Class of 1930.

DRAMATICS

MR. WILLIAM CORBITT

MISS DOROTHY KANE

The Boys' Central Dramatic Club scored another success this year with its production, "Room Service". Make-up was done by our two good friends—Miss Kane and Mr. Corbitt.

ORCHESTRA

DURING THE scholastic year, the Central High School Orchestra has been entirely remodeled. Under the very able direction of Mr. Martin Cesare, and the supervision of Brother Regan, this group of splendid musicians has made history in the musical annals of the school. At the start of the year there were few veterans, but around this small nucleus, they have ranged several novices, with great results.

The Orchestra made several appearances throughout the year, among which were: The Annual Play, the Christmas Program, and they also entertained the Rotary Club at their Annual Luncheon on St. Patrick's Day. At all these, and numerous other small occasions, in their neat uniforms of Maroon and White, they rendered selections old and new to the plaudits of many large audiences.

However, their year's work will not be finished until their final appearance at the Commencement Exercises.

First row: Courtney, Butori, Pascoe, Burchell, Martin, Crotty.
Second row: Lousen, Maher, Stone, Keneally, McGowan, Gleason, Scully.

BAND HAS continued one of the most popular activities with students at Central. This year the Band made its first public appearance at the Miles City-Central football game here and entertained the crowd during the game with music and during the half-time intermission with snappy drills in conjunction with the Girls' Central Drum Corps. It continued its fine work during the remaining home games.

After the football season practice sessions continued daily under the direction of Mr. Martin Cesare and several new members were inducted into the group, largely from the Freshman class.

At various assemblies during the year the boys displayed their talents, but due to the illness of Mr. Cesare the annual spring concert was cancelled. As this is written, the boys are continuing practice sessions, under Mr. Martin Merkle '33, for their appearance at the Commencement Exercises.

Second row: Courtney, Wills, Sullivan, Lousen, Howes, Kelly, D. Scully, W. Scully, Dougherty, Micone.
Third row: Clinch, Butori, Maher, Gleason, Rudman, Wulf, O'Neill, Fitzharris, Sullivan, Seymour, Smyth, Harrington, Crotty.
Fourth row: Harstead, McGowan, Parker, Riley, Pascoe, Ozanne, McDougall, Canty, Mulcahy.

"THE MAROON"

LIKE GOOD wine, the Maroon, the monthly publication, gets better the longer it is in existence. This year the staff produced a paper that was generally acknowledged to be the best in the school history. Editor Charles Gallagher and Associate Editor Smyth, along with News Editor Emmett Lowney, Feature Editor Sars O'Sullivan, Sports Editor John Canty and Make-up Editor Frank Conklin were principally responsible for the unprecedented success of the publication. Notable on the list of successes was the Christmas issue—to the knowledge of the staff the only three color high school paper issued in the Northwest.

However, it must not be thought that the Editors were the only ones who labored over the darling of the journalism students. Bob Pascoe's fine work landed him the job of Editor for the coming school year. He will be assisted by a staff that is fully capable, and that will be sure to continue the fine record set by the staff this year.

ANNUAL STAFF

ONE OF the inherited duties of every Central Senior Class has been the production of a yearbook. This year, the class proved to be no exception. Work on the book was started in November and was finally consummated when the Maroon Annual appeared in the latter part of May.

Due to the predominance of boys of Irish descent in the school, the staff decided to use a theme that would honor Irish traditions and culture. To this end the staff worked to tell this story in words and pictures.

The production staff was headed by the Editorial Board, whose members were Gerald Coleman, Frank Conklin, Charles Gallagher, Bill Lohman, Emmett Lowney, Sarsfield O'Sullivan, and Jere Smyth. Athletics were handled by John Canty, Ernest Burns, and Broughton McCarthy. George Shea, Art Editor, made the book one of the most outstanding Annuals produced in recent years from the standpoint of art work. Our business and advertising staffs had Jack Berry, Jack Cote, Jack Ferry, Charles Michaud, Al Stonich, and Charles Strong, James McCoy, Donald Hawe, and Jack Ray.

Through the combined efforts of all these, the Class of 1942 has left behind them a pictorial record of their four years at Central.

SACRED HEART ALTAR—1942

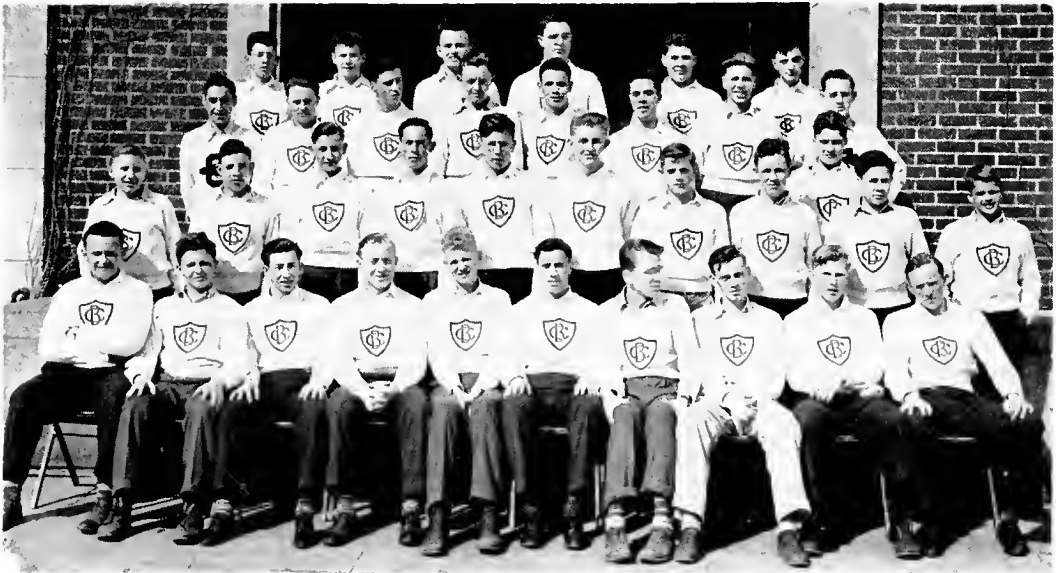

CRIB—1941

CHEERLEADERS: DOUGHERTY AND O'REILLY

PEP CLUB

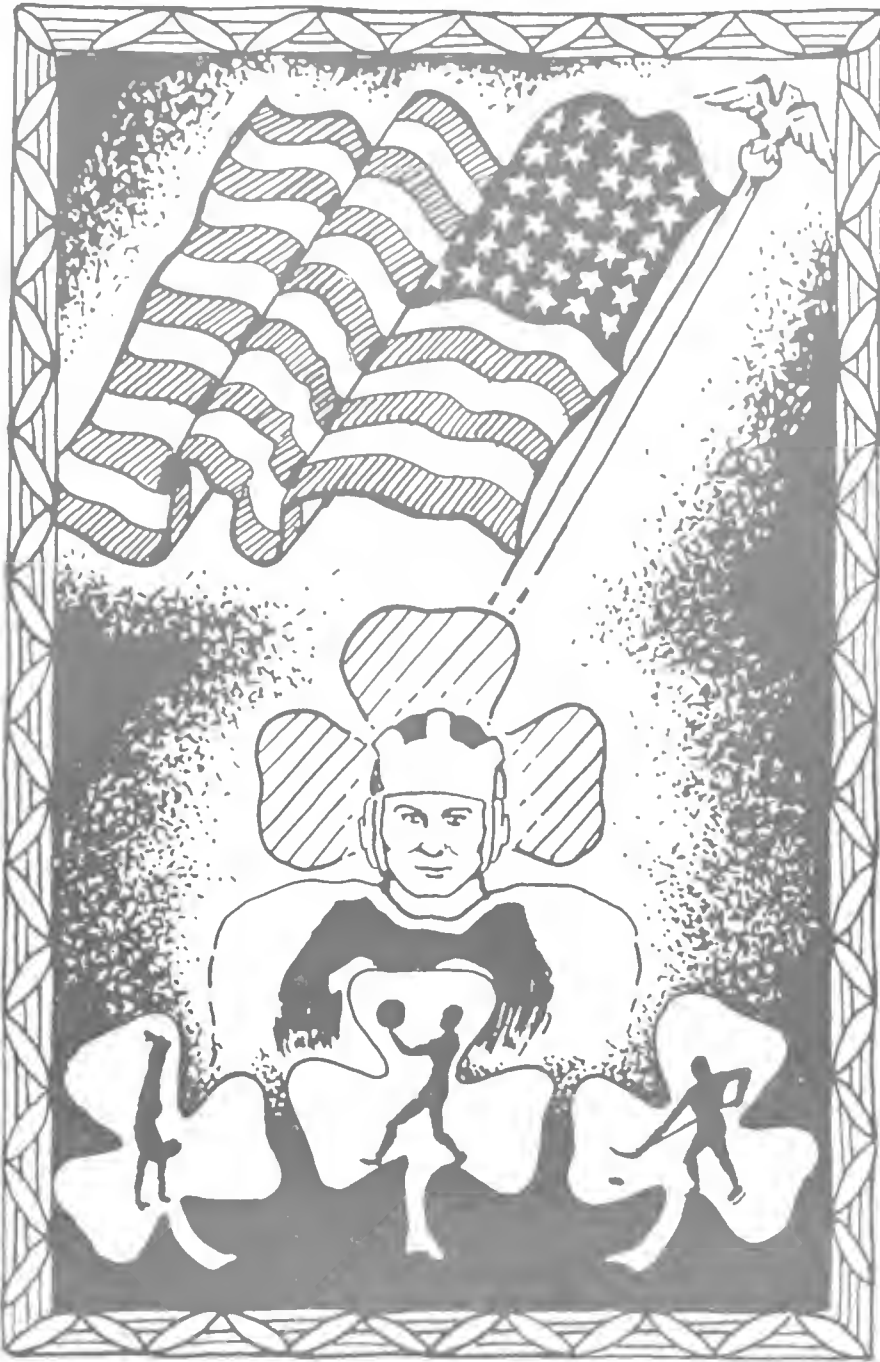

Front row: Butori, Ozanne, Lynch, Kelly, Driscoll, LeSage, McMahon, Flemming, Lousen, Lynch.

Second row: Boyle, Wales, O'Neill, Lowney, Schilling, Sullivan, Driscoll, Sullivan, Kane, Forsell.

Third row: Reilly, Parker, Quinn, Murphy, O'Halloran, Guerrechit, Mehring, Dougherty.

Last row: Gagen, O'Donnell, O'Brien, Canty, St. John, Butori.

ATHLETICS

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Top: Martin, McCarthy, Strong, Hawe.
Center: Wargin, Sullivan, Doran, Devine.
Bottom: Guay, Edwards, Kelly, O'Dell.

ANSWERING Coach Ruegamer's call for basketball players on December 1, were three veterans and a large number of inexperienced but hopeful prospects.

Starting on December 20 with a victory over Miles City, the potentially powerful team went through a decidedly in and out season, for though usually playing an inspired game at home the boys seemed to fall apart on the road.

The team partially redeemed itself for its lapses on the road by returning the City Championship to Central for the first time since 1937 when they defeated the strong Butte High team, 30-28.

The team was co-captained by McCarthy and Martin and consisted of four seniors, six juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman.

BASKETBALL – "B" TEAM

Top: Banovich, Lazzari, Sullivan, Barry.
Center: Boyle, Poole, Burchell, Pearce.
Bottom: Dennehy, Michaud (Mgr.), Keough.

CENTRAL'S MOST successful "B" team in years climaxed a near perfect season with victories in the Catholic Tournament at Carroll and the Butte C. Y. O. League.

Coached by Brother Satterthwaite, the team played most of the second teams of the schools on the varsity schedule, winning most of their early season games handily. At the semester three of the regulars were advanced to the Varsity team, but the winning ways of the Juniors continued.

The team reached its peak at the State Catholic Tournament when they defeated the teams from Catholic Central of Anaconda, St. Leo of Lewistown, and the strong Greenies of Helena Cathedral in the final.

In the final game of the Butte C. Y. O. League the future Maroons defeated the Newman Club, 33-28.

As all the members of this team will return, prospects for successful seasons in the next few years are bright.

FOOTBALL

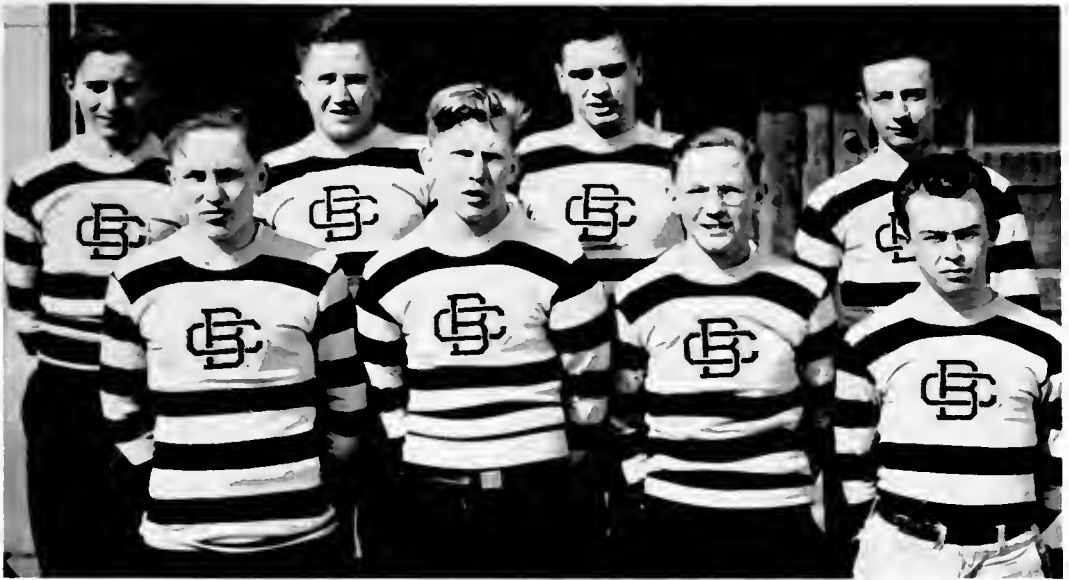

First row: Egan, Culun, Burns, Lavelle, Berry (capt.), McCarthy, Pearce, Merritt, Cote.
 Second row: Coleman (mgr.), Smith, Guerrechit, Lynch, Joyce, Berry, Sullivan, Lazzari, Banovich, McCoy (mgr.).
 Third row: Boyle, Murphy, Verbanic, Sullivan, Guay, Devine, Michaud.

IN HIGH school football circles in Montana in 1941 Central was known to have an always dangerous, always potent team which could be counted on to give a good show at any time. With the absence of Andy Slatt, Howard Ruegamer was forced to carry on alone and he did a swell job.

The opening game was with Anaconda and the Maroons took over the game easily with the score of 6-0. Then came Great Falls, who ran over the team to the tune of 25-0. Next came another victory over Miles City with Lazzari pushing over the final tally 2-0. After this win came a loss from Havre to the score of 18-0. With Martin giving the big push the Maroons were able to run over the Livingston Rangers 14-6. By making it their second victory in as many weeks the team defeated Dillon 7-0. But the old saying, "Give a man enough rope and he will hang himself," was true in a slight way because the boys dropped the sectional championship to Bozeman by 13-0.

Although the boys had hard luck throughout the season they played good ball and by far the outstanding players were Martin, McCarthy and Lazzari.

PEP BAND

Seated: Maher, Fitzharris, Kenneally, Gleason, Wills, Canty.
Standing: Harsted, Scully, McDougall, Sabol, Taylor, Rudeman.

FOR THE third straight year the Pep Band has played a prominent part in stirring up student enthusiasm at home basketball games and at pep meetings in the auditorium. This year the organization worked in close harmony with the newly-formed Pep Club and together these groups turned out some of the best pep gatherings seen at Central. At the home games the boys added no little to the spirit of the rooting sections.

The Pep Club, pictured elsewhere in these pages, was formed with Brother Sullivan as moderator, for the purpose of better organizing cheering at home games and of working in conjunction with the similar group at Girls' Central. That the venture was eminently successful in its first year is proven by the many favorable comments heard on the work of the group, their best work being done at the City Championship game.

FAITH

Faith entered business in prehistoric times, when cave men laid aside their clubs to trust one another in bartering—when might was cast aside in favor of the handshake.

Thus man found that by mutual trust and confidence there was greater unity against common enemies.

We have builded this institution on mutual faith—faith in Butte, faith in its people and the faith of our customers in our honest merchandise. Our most valued possessions are the remembrances of the hearty handshake we receive from our customers, who by trading here again and again, have become our warmest friends.
